RE: Purchase Orders #36283 & 36639

Dear Customer:

Enclosed are the Material Safety Data Sheets you recently requested.

It would help us serve you more efficiently if you kept these data sheets on file and limit future requests to those products for which you do not have the required information.

If we can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Very truly yours,

J. L. HAMMETT CO.

Dear Ms. Trombino:

Because of the "soft paper" material content and form of our various products, we have not been requested to provide the "Material Safety Data Sheet" by either distributors or end users of our various products which may be used in the school classroom.

In the absence of that formalized Material Safety Data Sheet, I can state that the material content of all our products is essentially paper, printing ink, and in some cases adhesive. The inks and adhesives used are non-toxic in the end form of a printed piece. Further, the inks and adhesives used are in wide general use, and the raw material and end product delivered by Eureka is not hazardous when used for the intended decorative purpose by children of school age.

Sincerely,

Patrick J. O'Brien

Dear Ms. Wasko:

Thank you for your recent request for Material Safety Data Sheets.

We will be more than happy to comply with your request if you will specify the exact items for which these sheets are needed.

As soon as this information is received, we will send the requested sheets.

Please be sure to keep these sheets on file, since we cannot send these each and every time a specific item is ordered. Thank you for your help in this matter.

Very truly yours,

J. L. HAMMETT COMPANY
